ATX CYPHER INTERVIEW BY TAVARON MARSHALL

ATX Cypher takes Hippie Rap to Another Level

1. Hometown? Minneapolis, MN.

2. Residing in?

I currently reside in San Antonio, TX.

3. Where It Started (Inspirations)?

Tupac was the artist that got me into Rap.

I was always freestyling and writing songs about my life experiences.

I remember flowing at kegger parties in Dinkytown and Uptown Minneapolis.

4. Musical Influences? Tupac is my main influence.

I also like Freddie Gibbs, Dom Kennedy, Andre 3000, Eazy-E, E-40, J. Cole, Ransom, Logic, Mac Miller, earlier Young Jeezy & Lil Wayne.

I was a big Wayne fan back during Da Drought Mixtapes Series..

I really started taking my music career seriously when I moved to Austin, TX.

In Austin I started meeting Artists, labels, studios, & connecting with fans.

It was there that I decided to make my home base and I started to put on for the city.

I still record all my music and videos there and do a podcast there as well.

5. How did you get the name ATX Cypher?

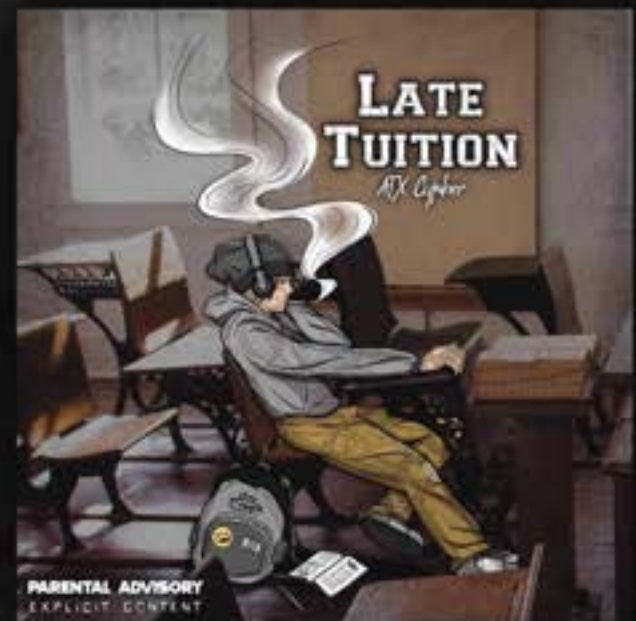

I started out as just Cypher but there were too many Rappers named Cypher so I put ATX on the front of mine to differentiate myself. Marketers at labels told me that all my socials need to line up so I changed everything to ATX Cypher.

BIO:

Bio: Fresh off receiving "Da Midnight Ryde Album of the Year 2022" for his "Codeine Metaverse" Album, ATX Cypher follows this up with another exceptional offering with his newly released "Late Tuition" Project. Representing Minnesota by way of Austin Texas, Cypher has been showing Hip-hop purest that he deserves his respect and more. With so many aspiring Artists hoping to get a shot in the currently saturated Music Industry it's only right that a lyricist of this caliber gets a spotlight of his own.

CLOVA INTERVIEW BY TAVARON MARSHALL

1. Hometown? Austin, TX.

2. Town Residing In?
I'm currently residing in Austin, TX.

3. Where It Started (Inspirations)?
It started with Throed House Click and Die Slo Ent.

My first project "Keep Austin Live" was my introduction to the city.
My first album released on digital streaming platforms was "Universoul Language" produced by Jon Deas, followed by "Rap Game Yoda"
produced by Cutta Muzik.
In total I have recorded 13 Albums and have a few songs on sync placements.

4. Musical Influences?

Pac, Biggie, Jay-Z, Nas, UGK,
Diplomats, Kanye West, SUC,
Kendrick Lamar, OutKast,
Nipsey Hustle, Chamillionaire, and Sauce Walka.

5. How did you get the name Clova? I got the name Clova from always wearing the color green.
This influence stems from me being a part of the cannabis culture and from my Dad being from Cloverland, TX.

FAYRO

Fayro is back with a vengeance in his latest release, "In The Socket". This Memphis Tennessee-based hip hop recording artist has crafted an electrifying single and accompanying music video that will have viewers on the edge of their seats. Fayro's track is high energy and powerful, setting it apart from other current hip hop singles. Fayro's prowess in the studio is clear to see, with "In The Socket" providing an impressive showcase of his artistry. Don't miss Fayro's latest single on YouTube, and prepare yourself for an unforgettable experience.

Aspiring to break his way into a new era of music, 3x Billboard Charting and Award Winning Artist Fayro is a striving artist from Memphis, TN with a mission to inspire positive change in the world. Fayro speaks life through his lyrics, and each song holds a message of meaning and positivity. He is known for his astounding stage presence and unique sound. Fayro is soon to be a standing legend in the world of Hip Hop and music as a whole.

Hippie Nation Exclusive | Issue No.9A

Fayro is known best for his versatility and energetic stage presence; at the age of 15 he decided that being an artist was the path for him and since then he has performed hundreds of shows including headlining acts for many mainstream artists, self-promoted shows, birthday parties, weddings and much more. Being an artist has led him to meet many industry talents and created opportunities like collaborating with Memphis Legend Lil' Wyte (Don't Get Robbed single) as well as DJ Unk (Speak Easy single) in 2016. Among these opportunities, Fayro has been able to create a catalog of music gaining him fandom and award nominations. He has also been nominated for many awards and took home Video of the Year in 2017. In 2022 Fayro was nominated in many categories at the Brink TV Show Awards and was nominated for Artist of the Year 2022 at the SEA Awards.

Between the years 2015 and to date FAYRO has released 10 albums, 6 Mixtapes, and many singles in between. His most popular 2019 single "Weight On It" hit over 200K streams across all platforms and is still climbing today. Fayro also made the top 200 Billboard charts for his 2021 single "Get On the Floor." Fayro's most recent Album "Year 422" was released on 11/2022 and more music is set to release in 2023. Most recently Fayro appeared in the Tubi Original film. "Immortal City Records" starring Ronreaco Lee, D. Woods, and many others.

NEW SINGLE

OUT NOW

Hippie Nation Exclusive | Issue No.9A

RHONDA ADAMS

Hello my name is Rhonda Adams (RhondaA ~TheVoice) I am a proud single mother of two (son and daughter) wonderful and beautiful children. I am married to a wonderful man (Travers Anderson). Born in Hopkins, SC, but later moved to West Columbia after my parent's divorce in 1991. Alumnus of Brookland Cayce High, graduating in 1996. Attended the Kenneth Shuler School of Cosmetology and became licensed as a cosmetologist in 2000. Currently living in Columbia, SC, employed by Receivable Solutions as a medical scheduler with emphasis as a leader over my department.

For several years, there was pain, darkness, and emptiness in my life.

I was faced with bullying from others, depression, and suicidal attempts. Becoming a single parent to my son at an early age was not easy.

At the age of four, my son lost his father due to a drug overdose.

How am I to raise my son alone?

I frequently became confused and lost.

Because of this pain, my life began to spiral out of control.

Life was like playing rushing roulette, or not caring about the consequences I may face.

I eventually moved out of my mother's house leaving my son behind in hopes of defeating the challenges I was dealing with and an attempt to get my life in order.

As time passed, I became involved in toxic relationships, started having mental breakdowns. Life for me was numb;

I began to suffocate my pain with negative feelings and behaviors, not realizing the harm I was inflicting upon myself.

I decided to return to my mother's house because of my son. I later became involved in a promising relationship and moved to North Carolina with this gentleman. The union of this relationship brought forth the blessing of my daughter. The relationship with this gentleman became toxic leading to failed suicidal attempts. The relationship soon ended, and I returned to South Carolina.

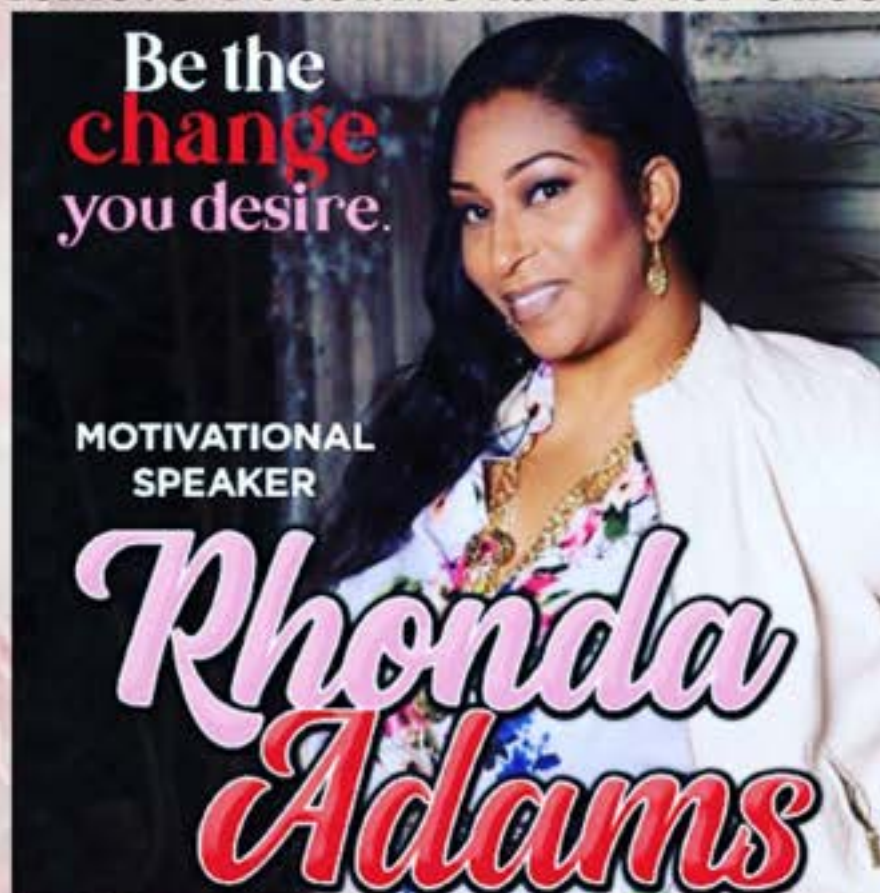

After returning to South Carolina, I continued my career as a hairstylist. I didn't fully understand who I was. I was often invited to attend church. I would always decline the offer, until one day I accepted. When I entered the church I heard the pastor speaking. I felt he was talking directly to me and me only. I then knew it was time for me to begin to share the untold truths about my life, helping others to understand that everyone has a story to tell. By confessing the truths of my life, I have assisted others from not committing suicide and removing themselves from toxic relationships.

The ability to share my failures and triumphs with all sexes, races, and nationalities has allowed one to gain strength, courage, and realize no one has to face their challenges alone. There are others like them, and we must stand together as one. We must seek God; pray harder; believe in ourselves; and surround ourselves with positivity.

The sharing of my life's obstacles and triumphs has led to the development of the "Eye Told You Movement," in which I am the founder and CEO. The Eye Told You Movement motto: Be the change You Desire. The Eye Told You Movement inspires one to the ability to change their current vision of themselves to see a positive reflection that lies ahead. The Eye Told You Movement holds speaking seminars for individuals or groups to inspire any population never to give up. Since 2018, we have hosted fashion shows that depict a story about everyday life situations.

The fashion show represents how we are ordinary models of our life truths, and that it is okay to feel hurt, but it is essential for us not to become complacent with feeling hurt. I wrote a play in 2021, Mirror Talk and published my first book in 2023 titled When Death was calling I Didn't Answer.

The goal for my life is to become a world-known motivational speaker, the CEO of multiple businesses instilling positive energy, self-love, having a podcast and displaying the ability for others to become successful at achieving their goals despite the history of their past. Because we are faced with everyday life struggles and uphold ourselves in the way society views us, I challenge YOU to set and achieve your goals regardless of your past. History should not be a repeat of itself, but a way to achieve a positive future for oneself.

MOODIE B. TRUBLZ

INTERVIEW BY TAVARON MARSHALL

1. Hometown? Long Beach, CA.

2. Town Residing In?

I currently reside in Austin, TX

3. Where It Started (Inspirations)?

When I was in high school, I started writing lyrics and poetry with no beat.

When I got to Texas, my cousin and I would freestyle over songs on the radio and I started to get better with my freestyles and delivery. I borrowed my first mic and a digital recording platform (Sonar) from my Dad, and I started recording out of my bedroom.

From there I started taking it more seriously. I started branching out to other producers, engineers and Artists in the city.

I ended up working with an Independent label by the name of N.O.P (Nothing Over Paper).

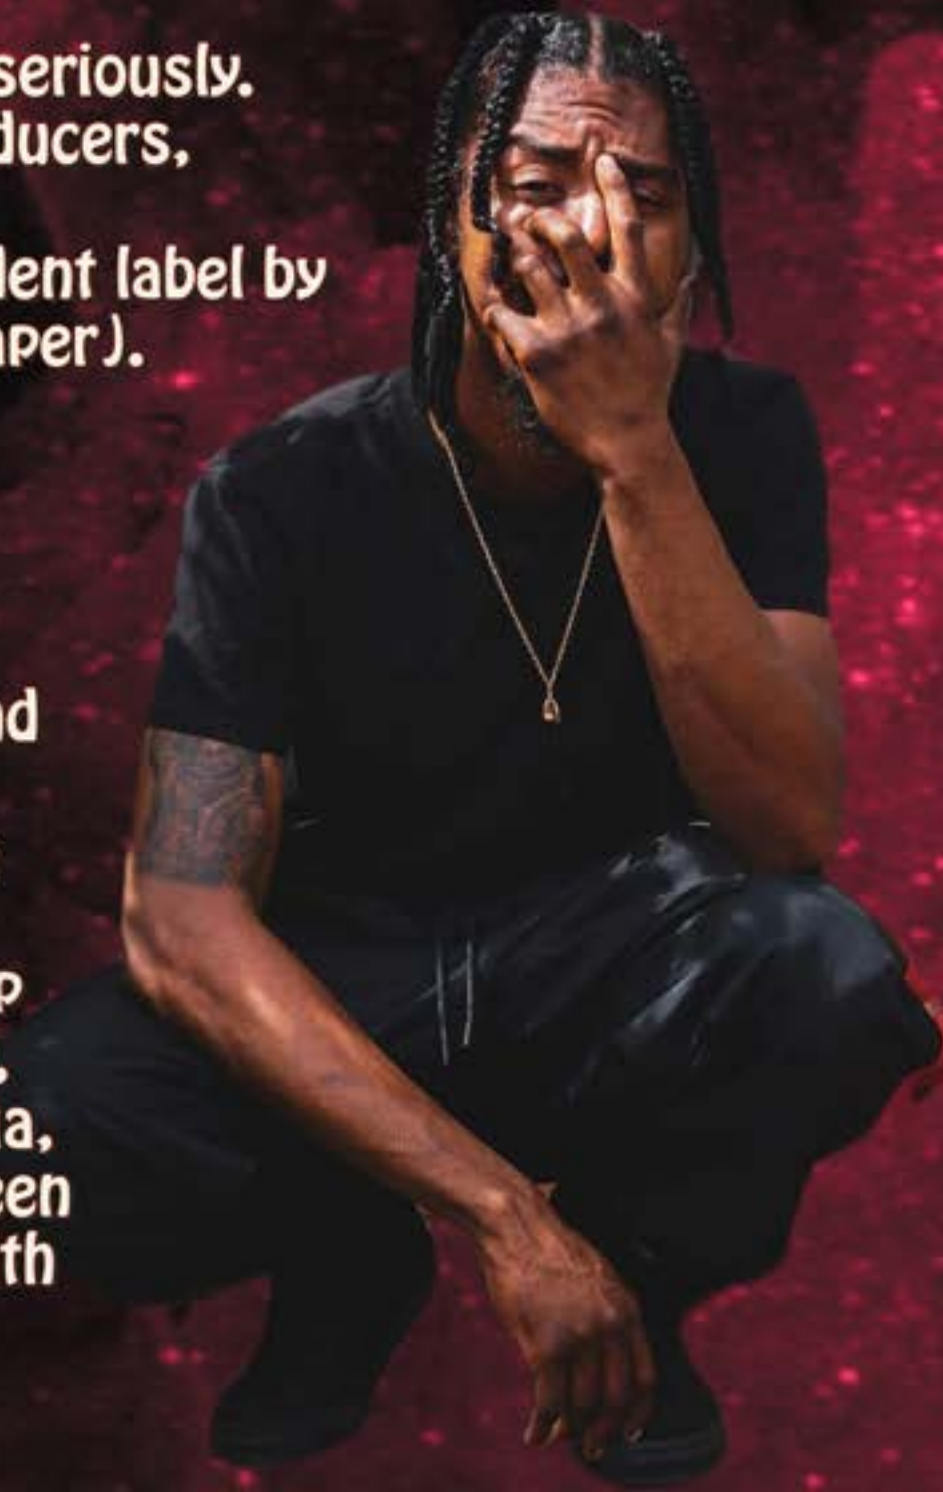

4. Musical Influences?

My Dad is a Jazz musician, so I've always had musical influences from the music he listened to.

I've always liked oldies, melodies and live instrumentals.

I tapped into storytelling mixed with melodies.

The Rappers I listened to growing up varied from groups like G-Unit, DPG, Young Money, Cash Money, 3-6 Mafia, and plenty more. I feel like I have been influenced by east coast so I vibe with most music these days.

5. How did you get your stage name?
I gave it to myself.
Moodie is no different from my style and versatility with songs.
Everything I create has a different vibe sonically from the last.
Music wise, I knew all I wanted to do was kill a mic and get better with self expression on these instrumentals.
I'll always be trouble for anyone trying to compete with me in this music.
I'm in MY OWN LANE!

CLAYTON SAVAGE - A VERSATILE COMPOSER, SONGWRITER, PRODUCER, AND PERFORMER

Diving into the depths of musical creativity since childhood, Clayton Savage has tirelessly honed his talents to blossom into the multifaceted artist he embodies today. His latest project, "Legion," serves as a testament to his versatility, showcasing his prowess as a composer, songwriter, producer, and performer. The fusion of various compositional elements in his music forms an unparalleled, authentic sonic experience that's uniquely Clayton's.

With an eclectic wellspring of inspiration drawn from a myriad of styles, Clayton Savage has seamlessly woven these influences into his distinctive sonic tapestry.

Hippie Nation Exclusive | Issue No.9A

In his journey through the music industry, Clayton's experiences have been nothing short of remarkable.

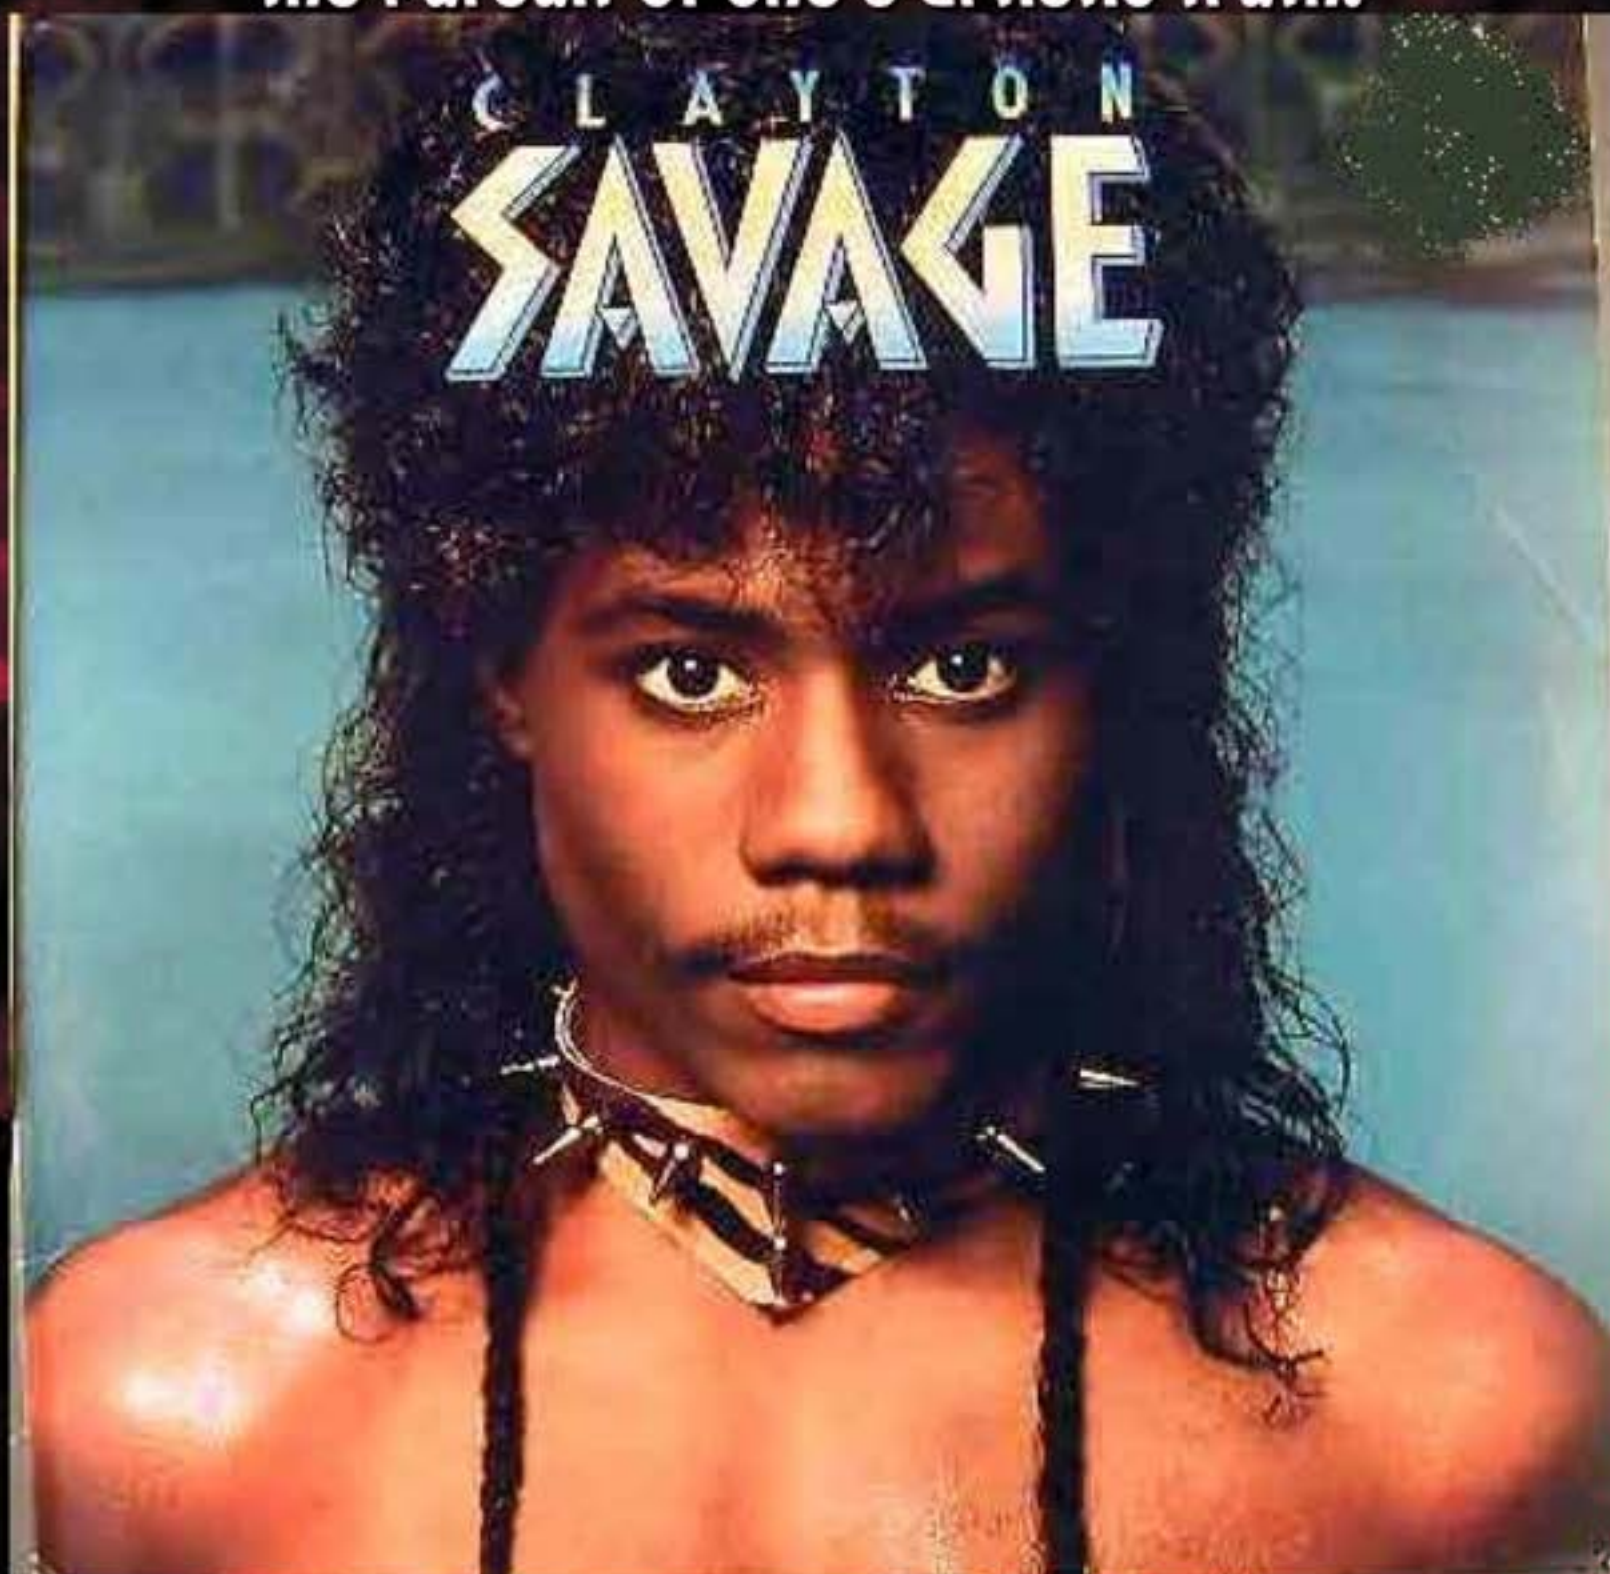

He made his mark as a studio sessionist and producer at the legendary Sugar Hills Records situated in Englewood, NJ. It was during this time that he had the privilege to collaborate with iconic figures like Grandmaster Mele Mel of the GM Flash Camp, adding a touch of legend to his portfolio.

Clayton's initial fanbase burgeoned as he embarked on European tours and ventured overseas alongside the Furious Five, solidifying his presence in the global music scene. As his aspirations gravitated towards a solo career and the release of his own album, Clayton Savage joined forces with Gerry Griffith, inking a deal with Capitol Manhattan Records.

Although faced with a setback due to a marketing stumble by Manhattan Records, Clayton's determination remained unshaken. He took his talents to the vibrant music scene of Minnesota, where he contributed his artistry to the premier band of the era, Westside. Five years down the road, he found himself returning to his roots in Virginia. Here, he diversified his pursuits, temporarily delving into the realms of Computer Programming and Graphic Artistry, demonstrating his multifaceted nature.

The call of original music proved irresistible, leading Clayton to establish his very own label, Red K Records. Under this independent banner, he once again kindled the flames of his creative ingenuity, crafting compositions that resonated with his unique artistic essence.

At the core of Clayton Savage's artistic odyssey lies a ceaseless passion for music, an unrelenting drive for innovation, and an unwavering commitment to his craft. As "Legion" continues to reverberate with audiences, Clayton's journey stands as an inspiring testament to the power of resilience, creativity, and the pursuit of one's artistic truth.

ROME LUCIO

“Commas” is a LIVE update from Rome Lucio’s latest song “Give it toEm”. Rome Lucio is known for seamlessly translating his life experiences into his songs. The new track, again from his own hand, gives us an update about his life after “Give it toEm”.

“Commas” is also Rome Lucio’s first co-production work with his dad and grammy award winner Frankie Biggz. The tune is catchy, secular and takes you into a world of clubs, traveling, hot women and excitement. The narrative “Commas” tells us the story of a better life! A life with recognition for Rome’s artistry skills. Finally eyes are on him and his music career is expedited with intensity.

“Commas” is the follow up song of “Give it toEm”. “Give it toEm” tells the story line of how Rome scraped his whole life to get to where he is today. It all started with him not being invited to party’s in high school, and people not being nice to him in his hometown. The tables turned and what the people now see is something different. The key message is to never stop working, creating and fighting to reach your goals.

G-SMITH INTERVIEW BY TAVARON MARSHALL

1. Hometown?

Staten Island, NY & Orlando, FL.

2. Town Residing In?

I'm currently residing in Austin, TX.

3. Where It Started (Inspirations)?

Hearing Hip-hop and RnB music at an early age (1990).

I started putting rhymes together around age 8 (1993).

I love the creativity and outlet that art provides. During this period music really took the forefront for me.

4. Musical Influences?

Micheal Jackson, Jay-Z , Lil Wayne, Baby Face, Biggie, 2pac, Lauren Hill, KRS-1, Naughty By Nature , Red Hot Chili Peppers, Run DMC , I could go on.

These are people I hear and immediately want to make music.

5. How did you get the name G-Smith?
My original name was M.C. Lostsoul.
After switching up to making music that was more personal and less pop culture,
I decided I need a more personal name.
G-Smith is closer to me because the music was going to be more true more me.

DIAMON INTERVIEW BY TAVARON MARSHALL

1. Hometown? Austin, TX.

2. Town Residing In?

I currently reside in Austin, TX.

3. Where It Started (Inspirations)?

I was inspired by Ice Cube, 2Pac, Mista the Stranger, and Taz.

4. Musical Influences?

My musical influences are 2Pac, Z-Ro, Lil Keke, Mista the Stranger, and Taz.

5. How did you get your stage name?

From my past dealing with neglect from family and classmates I felt like a diamond in the rough.

I started using the name Diamon without the d at the end to be different from other Artists that may have the same name.

I chose this name for myself at the age of 13.

WHO IS THE REAL GOAT OF SZNI?

JACK OF ALL TRADES

Are you the Jack of all trades or the master of none!

Sometimes you can often Master many talents but can you juggle the many talents that you want to master?

LET'S MEET THE WINNER OF SEASON 1

KeAndrea, is a R&B Singer from the small town of Riceboro, GA (located outside of Savannah). Her unique singing style has been inspired by artist such as Kehlani, Muni Long, Ari Lennox, and Jazmine Sullivan. She uses her wide range of vocal control and ability to rap to create a sound that is upbeat like hip hop but heartfelt like R&B.

GOAT STATUS?

SHE HAS IT ALL
in her short singing career she has already opened up for Trina, Tokyo Jetz, Pap Chanel, and GloRilla! She dropped her now EP titled "San to Savage" in July 2023.

Season 1 Edition

1. I want to sell my kind of art which is music because I love to create a vibe or a relatable feeling with people.

Not only do I want people to hear my vocals and song I want them to feel as well.

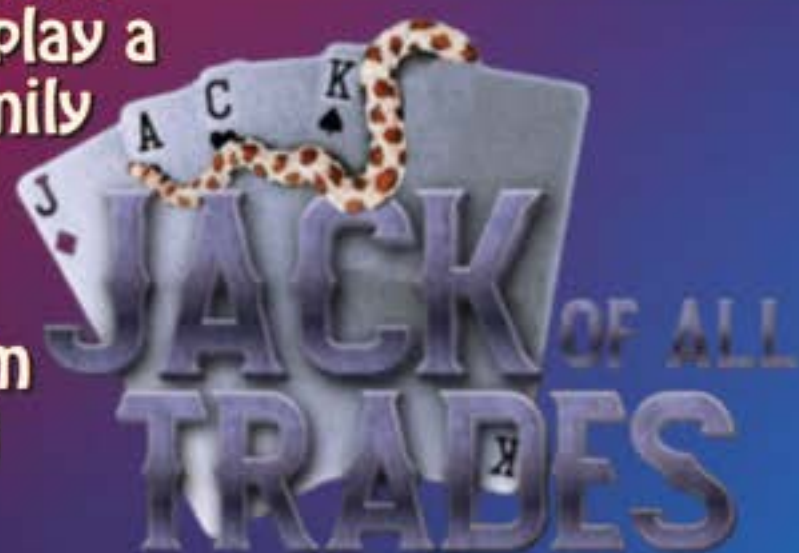

2. My dream project is to create an album that features alot of my r&b faves (Summer Walker, Victoria Monét, Kehlani, etc). I also want to go on an album tour!

3. I honestly don't like to collab with ALOT of artist. I like to collab with artist that matches or corresponds with my vibe. I find myself collaborating with musicians more than actual artist.

4. My other interest is fitness and being a mother of course! I believe they both play a huge role in my music because my family keeps me motivated to get going and fitness keeps me looking amazing

5. I would say my best art is when I'm performing live vs. a studio recorded so long because you can see everything I have to offer in my performance and song.

6. I AM THE JACK OF ALL TRADES BECAUSE NOT ONLY AM I AN AMAZING VOCALIST AND SONG-WRITER I CAN BE GIVEN ANY ASSIGNMENT AND MASTER! MY DELIVERY IS ALWAYS ON POINT. TAM A GREAT LISTENER SO THAT ALSO MAKES ME A GREAT LEADER. I HAVE THE VOICE, THE LOOK, THE PERSONALITY AND AUTHENTICITY. IM HER
